A Little God Time for Couples

Broadstreet Publishing

Looking for a new daily devotion book for the coming new year? This little book provides very accessible, down-to-earth, practical devotions for couples. There is a short devotion for each day based on a passage of scripture, followed by a few discussion prompts, and then a prayer.

If you are looking for a devotional aid to step up your time in the word, discussion and prayer together, I highly recommend this book. I have placed a copy on the library cart in the church entryway. If interested, I encourage you to take a look at it. But I encourage you to leave that copy on the cart for others to look at as well. The book is readily available online. Previous recommendations can be found here:
